

THE BALLINGER SCHOLARSHIP FOR EQUITY TRANSFER Architecture, Interior Design

Deadline: January 14, 2022

Ballinger is an interdisciplinary design firm with a staff of over 250 professionals working from a single office in Philadelphia. We lean into complex design challenges, not for their own sake but for the potential contained within their resolution — the potential to inspire discovery, to provoke inquiry, to encourage healing, and to speak dialogue. Since 1878 we have been catalysts for creation, synthesizing function and feeling into spaces that are as inspiring and ingenious as the future we hope to experience ourselves. We are committed to fighting racism and promoting justice, equity, diversity, and inclusion.

Ballinger is pleased to offer a $2,500 scholarship paired with a paid internship and two Ballinger mentors. The scholarship is open to students who are Black, Indigenous, and other People of Color and who meet the following criteria:

- Are transferring from a community college or technical school.
- Are accepted into an accredited program at a U.S. university or college in an architecture or interior design program starting in the fall of the 2021-2022 school year.

Applications are accepted via email, sent to scholarship@ballinger.com, or delivered by USPS or hand to: Sarah Blitzer, 833 Chestnut Street, Suite 1400, Philadelphia, PA 19107
